Scotland operated 1895 – 2009, but its roots go back to the Civil War and to Pennsylvania Governor
Andrew Gregg Curtin

The next few slides describe the origins of the program and the start of Scotland School

The Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphan Schools 1864-2009

Governor Andrew Gregg Curtin
1861 - 1867

by Historic Archives

Centre County, Pa

President Lincoln called for 75,000 volunteers after the bombardment and surrender of Ft. Sumter.

Governor Curtin then made a plea for the citizens of Pennsylvania to volunteer.

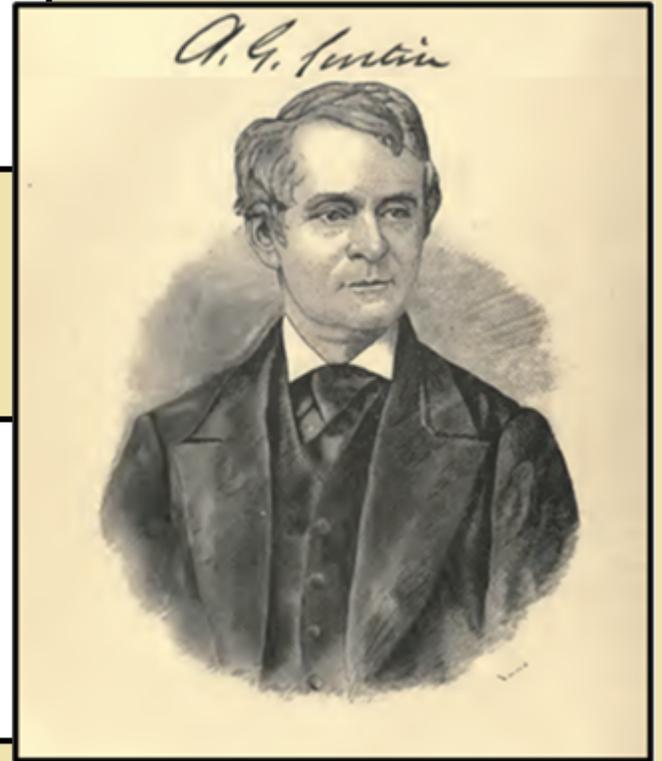

In his recruiting efforts, he pledged to take care of the children of Pennsylvania's veterans.

From Camp Curtin Historical Society

For 145 years, spanning three centuries, from the Civil War to 2009, the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania honored its commitment, and patriotic duty, to take care of the children of its veterans.

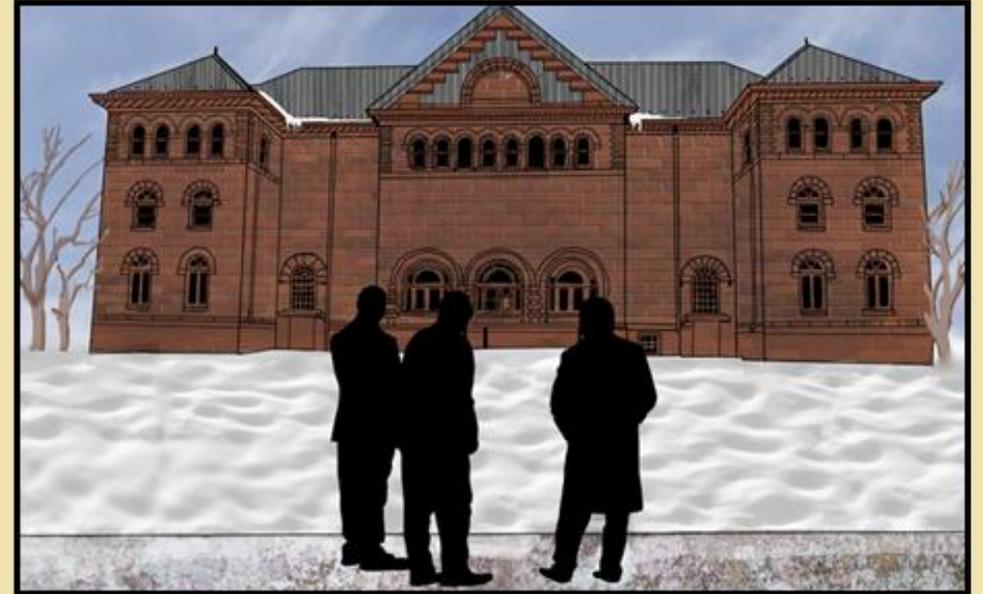

Governor Curtin was the visionary behind the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphan Schools.

He was known as "the Soldiers' Friend"

This program is culturally, historically, and militarily significant to the state of Pennsylvania, and by extension, to America

It should be part of the Pennsylvania historical landscape, as well as Franklin County and Greene Township

In the beginning ...
46 schools scattered across the state

Then there were three

Then there was one: 1895 to 2009

At the end ...

Scotland School for Veterans Children operated 1895 - 2009

There are Scotland School graduates and former students who are on active duty today!

Governor Curtin's vision of producing productive & patriotic citizens extended for 145 years!

The program existed for 65% of the time of Pennsylvania's statehood at the time the program closed in 2009
